COLD & FLU TOOLKIT

By Anthony William Medical Medium

In our modern world, the flu goes around 24/7 everywhere on the planet. There's more bug strains than ever before for us to catch.

There are three reasons we need to care for our immune systems when it comes to colds and flus:

1

Our immune systems protect us from colds and flus when we are exposed to them.

2

Our immune systems help us get through the duration of colds and flus as best as possible. The stronger your immune system, the better your experience.

3

We need our immune systems to be able to recover well from the lingering hit they take from colds and flus after the bug has left the body.

For information on how colds and flus can trigger other illnesses, symptoms, and conditions and affect the body long-term, you can read Medical Medium Brain Saver: Answers to Brain Inflammation, Mental Health, Brain Fog, Neurological Symptoms, ADHD, Anxiety, OCD, Depression, Heavy Metals, Epstein Barr, Seizures, Lyme, Addiction, Alzheimer's, Autoimmune & Eating Disorders, and its companion title, Brain Saver Protocols, Cleanses & Recipes For Neurological, Autoimmune and Mental Health.

IMMUNE SYSTEM TOOLKIT

It can be extremely helpful to have a toolkit of herbs, supplements, and healing recipes on hand and ready to use whenever they're needed. They can make all the difference when your immune system needs some support. Vimergy is a brand of supplements I fully endorse because I love the quality, cleanliness, and efficacy of their products. I am working with Vimergy because it's so important to get truly beneficial supplements out to the people who need them.
